Independence Lighting worked with R&S Property Services on the illumination of their new headquarters facility. The project focused on delivering a modern, high-performance lighting solution that enhances both the aesthetic appeal and functional performance of the workspace.

The lighting design was developed using AGi32 to ensure accurate analysis and optimal light levels throughout the space, supporting productivity, comfort, and visual clarity. By integrating contemporary fixtures and thoughtfully layered lighting strategies, the environment reflects the professionalism and forward-thinking culture of the R&S Property Services team.

From concept through implementation, the goal was to create a vibrant and welcoming environment aligned with the company's brand and operational needs. The result is a cohesive lighting solution that elevates the overall atmosphere of the headquarters while supporting day-to-day functionality.
