

Downtown Phoenixville

Phoenixville, PA, United States
Spring City Electrical

Settled in 1732, Phoenixville reflects a rich industrial heritage balanced with a progressive, modern identity. Long recognized as the home of Phoenix Iron Works, the borough continues to honor its legacy through thoughtful infrastructure and streetscape improvements. Today, Phoenixville incorporates Spring City Electrical's cast iron light posts into its streetscape design—blending historic character with contemporary functionality to enhance the community's visual appeal and pedestrian experience.