Borough of Royersford

Royersford, PA, United States
Spring City Electrical

Nestled in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, the Borough of Royersford is a charming community known for its historic architecture, small-town character, and vibrant local businesses. Its Main Street serves as the heart of the borough, where residents and visitors gather to shop, dine, and enjoy community events.

As part of ongoing efforts to enhance the streetscape, Spring City Electrical Manufacturing Company supplied new fixtures and poles along Main Street, contributing to a warm and inviting glow that highlights the borough's character. Independence Lighting provided lighting calculations for several phases of this project, ensuring the design meets PennDOT lighting standards while maintaining visual appeal and performance. Together, these improvements transform evening strolls into a more enjoyable experience while reinforcing Royersford's reputation as a welcoming and vibrant community.
